ADD LAMBERT TO 'Y' FACULTY AND BROADEN COURSE

At an important meeting of the Y. M. C. A. secretaries yesterday afternoon, the educational program for the year was completely mapped out. The essentially new and striking feature of the season's plan is the establishment of a full commercial course, as a structure for which R. E. Lambert has been added to the faculty. It will be the purpose of the Y. M. C. A. from now on to give those who wish a good commercial education, a system of drill which will make them competent office men.

Almost all the work will be done at night, there being no less than 21 classes. The work begins October 4 and will include the following classes: English 4, mathematics 4, bookkeeping, machine and shop work, Spanish, Japanese, spelling, penmanship, business law, shorthand and typewriting, mechanical and architectural drawing.

A jury in Circuit Judge Stuart's court yesterday found for the plaintiff in the sum of $1450 in the case of K. Kukulu, et al. against Charlie Leong, et al. an action for damages.

To the Merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during Change of Life.

Westbrook, Me. — "I was passing through the Change of Life and had pains in my back and side and was so weak I could hardly do my housework. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has done me a lot of good. I will recommend your medicine to my friends and give you permission to publish my testimonial." — Mrs. LAWRENCE MARSH, 12 King St., Westbrook, Maine.

Manston, Wis. — "At the Change of Life I suffered with pains in my back and joints until I could not stand. I also had night-sweats so that the sheets would be wet. I tried other medicine but got no relief. After taking one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began to improve and I continued its use for six months. The pains left me, the night-sweats and hot flashes grew less, and in one year I was a different woman. I know I have to thank you for my continued good health ever since." — Mrs. M. J. BROWNELL, Manston, Wis.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled in such cases. If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

MURRAY WILLING TO HAVE DIVERS EXAMINE SEWER

City Official Makes Public Report Submitted After Investigation Last February

Does a break actually exist in the city sewer line where it crosses the reef, or anywhere else? Yes or no? This is a question which is bothering the minds of many, than one of the residents of Honolulu who eat fish. Of course, if you don't care for fish, it doesn't really matter to you, for the whole question hinges about the fact that Hawaiian and Oriental fishermen are taking catches from a supposedly broken place in the sewer to which fish are attracted in vast numbers.

Appropos of the question, Harry E. Murray, superintendent of the waterworks and sewer system, has given out the following letter, relative to the alleged break, and signed by Fred Kerchoff, engineer who had charge of the divers sent out in February to investigate the sewer.

"Honolulu, February 12, 1915.

"H. E. Murray,
"Assistant Manager Honolulu Waterworks and Sewers.

"Sir: I have to report that Diver W. E. Terrill has carefully inspected the outfall sewer from the end to where the pipe is buried and he states that with the exception of a few small leaks it is in fair condition.

"He reports that the end is off the bottom, and that he could find no evidence of any collapse in the line. Also the end is entirely free of marine growth.

"This work took a crew of diver tender and three men, two and three-fourths days, of which three-fourths of a day was spent in getting boat and rigging ready and returning the same.

"A surf boat was hired from the Inter-island drydock, and the diving rig was kindly loaned by the Territorial Department of Public Works."

Mr. Murray says that if the committee on health from the chamber of commerce insists on another investigation it can be made. The committee met yesterday for the first time to consider the matter.

"We sent the men down," says Mr. Murray, "and did not tell them what they were to look for. We told them to report whatever they found. Each day during the investigation they used to come into the office and report a nut or bolt missing here or there, but that was all. The men who did the work were W. E. Terrill and Eddie Hunt. If there is any such break as is claimed it is certainly a surprise to me."

Light Sidelights on Police Court Scenes

Antone Tavares was driving a lumber wagon down from Red Hill last night just as several Hawaiians employed by the United States engineers department had quit work for the day. Tagawa, a Japanese about 50 years old, was riding on a bicycle on Queen street late yesterday when E. Baldwin, in an automobile, approached from Kapiolani lane. Baldwin tooted his horn and shouted, but the Japanese did not heed, but kept his head down and his eyes on the front wheel. It was too late. Tagawa's eye was cut and the bicycle was smashed so considerably. Baldwin agreed to buy the Japanese another pedal-machine.

If there was any mysterious "gun play" in a house at Liliha and School streets yesterday, its occupants didn't propose to advertise it. Neighbors telephoned the police that they heard shooting coming from the other house. Patrolman Huihui made a flying trip but after getting into the house he found the occupants sitting down with all appearances of peace and quiet. Nevertheless Huihui searched the place. He couldn't find any revolver but he found 19 .32-caliber cartridges in a trunk.

ARMY NOTES

On Wednesday evening at the aerodome at Fort Shafter was perhaps the largest gathering of officers, enlisted men and their families that had ever assembled for an amateur night at the fort. At 5:30 o'clock the crowd began to gather and in a few minutes after the gates were opened the aerodome was filled to its utmost capacity. The audience was most enthusiastic and as each number on the program was finished the applause was so great that it was difficult to decide to which acts the prizes should go.

There were $50 in prizes offered by the post exchange, and 1st Sgt. Rigley, Company L, presented the first prize, which was $25, to Bates and Marshall, whose act, "The Booking Office," was adjudged the best. The second place went to Roan of the mounted orderlies, 2d Infantry, and was a prize of $15, while it was decided that Spotlight Brown and King Minor, 25th Infantry, in their clever singing and dancing act, deserved the third prize, which was $10.

Botts Feared Sender of Nut Might be Fresh

Purchasing Agent Troubled By an Ambiguous Gift Which Reached Him By Mail

What is one to think if he gets a nut through the mail? Not a peanut, walnut, nor grape-nut, but a plain nut—the kind one screws on a bolt.

That is a question that has just puzzled the tired brain of City Purchasing Agent E. J. Botts for a period of 24 hours. Yesterday morning, in the morning mail that was laid at Mr. Botts' door, there was contained such a nut, one of steel, and fastened with a thin wire to a little tag which bore the name of the purchasing agent. Nothing else.

Mr. Botts picked up the nut and looked at it. Several of the city supervisors were present and the nut was passed to them for examination. The supervisors handled it gingerly, almost expecting it to go off.

Then some one hit upon a bright idea. "I know," said the some one, "it's a joke on you, Botts. It's just a hint from somebody that you are nutty."

The good natured purchasing agent scouted the idea at first, but through the long afternoon that followed, the words kept recurring to him till he began to worry and wonder if he had been made the victim of a practical joke. He went over his list of acquaintances, trying to discover an enemy, and he worried over the joke through the night.

This morning a second little label came to the office. This one bore not but words which said, "Nuts—The Gregg Company—See Sample Recently Forwarded."

Such things may one expect, being a purchasing agent for a city.

THURSTON HEADS SUB-COMMITTEE FOR HOME WORK

Chairman Berndt Names Five Groups of Men to Help in Campaign of Promotion

Five important sub-committees have been appointed by Chairman E. A. Berndt of the Hawaii Promotion Committee to assist in the work of the coming year. A movement is on foot to place more emphasis upon the work of the committee in taking care of the tourists once they are here, besides offering inducements to bring them here. For this purpose a home work committee has been appointed with L. A. Thurston as chairman.

On each of the committees appears one member from one of the other islands of the group. Not more than one could be appointed because it is necessary that a majority of each committee be available constantly in Honolulu. The members from the other islands will come here only once a month.

The sub-committees appointed by Chairman E. A. Berndt are as follows: Home Work—L. A. Thurston, chairman; Geo. H. Vickers, Geo. Angus, Publication and Literature—F. Towse, chairman; W. O. Aiken, L. A. Thurston.

Territorial and County Affairs—Benjamin Hollister, chairman; D. P. R. Isenberg, A. F. Wall.

Inter-island—Geo. Angus, chairman; W. O. Aiken, D. P. R. Isenberg. Finance—E. A. Berndt, chairman; A. F. Wall, George H. Vickers.
